Alderman Dugger reported to the Board that the County said that they were going forward with the County Wide Growth Plan and were going to exclude any city that didn't help pay for it. Dugger officially requested City Attorney Vernich to be in attendance during those meetings to convey to the County that the citizens of Greenbrier pay County taxes and will not be excluded. If the County does exclude the City, then the Board should look at the possibility of court action against the County.
